Ocean Beach May Have Population High As 26,000

So States Assistant City Planning Director

Ocean Beach may yet have a population of 26,000, stated Harry Haelsig, assistant city planning director, before the October meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening at the Woman's clubhouse. His talk, in the main, concerned post-war planning suggestions for Ocean Beach, particularly in the matter of boundary changes to the business zone that may be advisable.

In view of the numerous changes to the local business district, the contemplated new business buildings and the increasing congestion of parked cars, the Chamber of Commerce post-war planning committee is at work on the proposition of advisable boundary changes as well as on the matter of providing improved parking facilities for Ocean Beach business district customers. A formal request has gone into the city planning commission for a city planning engineer survey and study of Ocean Beach.

Last Zoning Was in 1930

Haelsig explained the matter of zoning and the various kinds of zoning outlined in the city's ordinances, and stated that present Ocean Beach business zone boundaries were established as far back as 1930. He gave figures about Ocean Beach of particular interest here, stating that Ocean Beach proper as outlined by the city is district number 19, and covers, in the main, that part of the city between Santa Barbara Avenue and the ocean and between Point Loma Avenue and Mission Bay. It covers an area of 747 acres, as established by the city's survey of 1934, all but three acres of which has been sub-divided into (Continued on Page 2)

District Officers To Speak at Next Legion Meeting

District officers of the American Legion are to speak at the next meeting of Clyde A. Wright Post of Ocean Beach, to be held at the Woman's clubhouse Thursday evening, Oct. 18, at 8 o'clock. They will explain the work of the Legion, announces Roy Orrick, post commander. "We expect S. G. Fold, the commander, to be back from Hollywood to preside at this meeting," Orrick stated.

Orrick also announces that "we have just received the new eligibility ruling of the Legion to the effect that anyone in the service on or before Sept. 2, 1945 is eligible for membership. All servicemen and ex-servicemen are cordially invited to attend the Oct. 18 meeting."

Those in charge also plan to serve refreshments.

LUTHERAN SUNDAY SCHOOL CHOOSES NEW OFFICERS FOR COMING SCHOOL YEAR

At the last weekly meeting of the Bethany Lutheran Sunday School staff the following were elected to serve for the coming Sunday school year: Superintendent, Mrs. Merle Porter, Secretary Mrs. Thelma Lankow and Treasurer Mrs. Ethel Zuehlendorf. At Bethany Lutheran the Rev. Martin Lankow will deliver the 10:45 sermon message considering "The Christian Household" next Sunday. The Sunday School meeting at 9:30 will continue its studies in the Life of Moses. Both the Voter's Assembly and the Mission Circle meet at two in the afternoon. Bethany Lutheran church is located at Sunset Cliffs Blvd. and Cape May Ave.

Honors in the Ocean Beach big lemon growing contest now rest with Mrs. John Groff of 4370 Coronado Ave. Her neighbor, Mrs. James Young, this week reports that Mrs. Groff's lemon picked a few days ago in the Groff yard is three ounces heavier than the one Mrs. Young had reported last week. The Young lemon weighs one pound one ounce and the Groff lemon weighs one pound and four ounces. Mrs. Young brought both lemons in to The News office this week. Both specimens are of the Eureka variety and are more the size of grapefruit than they are of lemons.

New Pumper For Fire Station To Arrive Here Soon

Ocean Beach fire station, known technically as Station 15 by the city's fire department, is to have a new $13,875 pumper engine within the next few days, G. E. Courser, assistant city fire chief, informed The News Thursday. "In fact," he said, "I expect the city council to formally accept the new equipment next Tuesday, after which the new pumper likely will be taken out to Ocean Beach the next day."

Fire Chief J. E. Parrish could not be reached for comment at the time of going to press Thursday. Describing the new equipment, Lieut. Louis Lechien and Engineer Lee Plaisted of the local station said Thursday that it has a rated capacity of 1250 gallons of water a minute and is expected to better that by 500 gallons a minute maximum when pumping from the most efficient hydrants here. The old Seagrave pumping engine, which is being replaced is now at least 21 years old and has a capacity of only 750 gallons a minute, they stated. Engineer Plaisted attended the test made of the new pumper in San Diego bay at the foot of Third Ave. on Oct. 4.

First Dress Court Of Year Held At Point Loma High

Girls' League, Point Loma high school, opened their semester activities last week with two major projects on Wednesday. A business meeting and fashion show was called at 1:30 with Lou Stelle Myers league president and Priscilla Welch chairman. Of the dress "court" in charge. At 3 o'clock the first dress "court" was held. The "court" was instituted last year as an effective student project to encourage more interest and taste in dress, adhering to dress regulations as set up by the Girls' League. Regulations call for blouse, sweater and skirt for underclassmen with socks worn. Upper classmen may wear dresses each day, underclassmen on Friday. Most girls, however, prefer the blouse, sweater, and skirt costume throughout the year.

Those girls not conforming to the regulations are summoned in to court and "tried" by a jury. If it is finances or lack of understanding on the part of new students these girls are referred to Mrs. Mary Maull, dean of girls. If the offense is deliberate the girls are sent to seventh period study or have assembly privileges removed. The jury consists of Ivy Wilson and Joanne Jefferson, tenth grade; Suzanne Kelley and Isabelle Viegas, eleventh grade; Ann Rutledge and Mariann Bach, twelfth grade. Priscilla Welch serves as court judge.

With the first month of school in the past students have settled down to real studying and home work. All activities are well organized and a real program of "school" is felt.

Kraft and Kyle At Shrine Ceremonial

Fred H. Kraft and George B. Kyle of Ocean Beach were two of a group of several hundred San Diego Shriners, members of Al Bahr Temple, who took part in the big fall shrine ceremonial held at El Centro Saturday. Fred had the honor of riding one of the two camels taking part in the spectacular parade and George was a member of the patrol team from Al Bahr Temple that highlighted the parade and the initiation ceremonies at which 40 candidates were admitted to Shrine membership.

About 700 Shriners from southern California and Arizona attended this, the third ceremonial of the kind thus far held in the desert.

Kraft also has been accorded the honor of being one of the members of Al Bahr Temple to make the trip by chartered plane to Mexico City on October 21 for one week of ceremonials to be staged by the Mexico City Shriners.

Mrs. Morris Fried of Ocean Beach reports receipt of the announcement of the birth of a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Licker on September 20. They reside in Hollywood and the infant is the first grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fried. Before her marriage Mrs. Licker was Ethel Fried.

Recent Public Initiation of Ocean Beach V. F. W. Members

Reading from left to right, the men shown in the picture are: Chas. Padgett, past commander of local post; Horace Page, officer of day; Jim McCampbell, chaplain; Orben E. Ramsey, S. R. Cooper, Wm. E. Harris, Wm. A. Albrow, Gordon Burnham, John W. Kohr, Harry E. Daniels, Louis M. Horvath, Gust Nast, Al McConnell and E. Dallas. Cooper, McConnell, Dallas, McCampbell, Page and Nast are members of Cecil F. Connolly Post drill team that conducted the initiation ceremonies, and all the others named are members of Lieut. Bert A. Allen Post of the V. F. W., Ocean Beach.

Included in the degree team of Cecil F. Connolly Post 75 of San Diego, which put on the Veterans of Foreign Wars public initiation at the recent street fair and festival, were S. R. Cooper commander, Al McConnell senior vice commander, E. Dallas junior vice commander, Jim McCampbell chaplain, Horace Page officer of the day and Gust Nast sentry. Leo Donovan is listed as "departed comrade." Commander Jack McCaffrey of Lieut. Bert A. Allen Post No. 2415 of Ocean Beach provides for publication in The News this week the following announcement regarding the local post:

"The regular meetings of Lieut. Bert A. Allen Post No. 2415, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are held on the 4th Thursday of each month. The next regular meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 25 at the Ocean Beach Woman's clubhouse, Bacon and Muir Sts. All V. F. W. members are invited to attend meetings as guests of the Post.

"A social night is held the second Friday of each month by the Post and Auxiliary. A share-a-dish dinner and games are enjoyed by the families of members and other guests.

"Veterans of all wars who have seen foreign service during times of war or emergency are invited to become members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Lieut. Bert A. Allen Post welcomes all veterans who are eligible even though still on active duty with the Armed Forces. Those members who joined overseas and have not received the initiation will be welcome at both social and business meetings. For information call B-3253, B-4837 or H-8-3059.

"Wives, sisters, mothers and daughters of men who saw service overseas in this war, as well as all previous wars, are eligible to become members of the Auxiliary to Lieut. Bert A. Allen Post. The Auxiliary meets the 4th Friday of each month at the Ocean Beach Woman's clubhouse. You may call H-8-3059, B-4887, B-3253 or B-6142 for further particulars."

Two Ocean Beach Men Freed From Jap Prison Camps

One Home and Other Expected To Be Here Soon

Two Ocean Beach men have been freed from their harrowing experiences in Jap prison camps. Drum Major Jackson Rauhof, U.S. Marine Corps, 39, expects soon to greet his wife, Mrs. Helen Rauhof of 2053 Abbott St., following his liberation from a prison camp on the Japanese mainland. He was with the Americans captured by the Japs when Corregidor fell and was a prisoner for more than three years. Rauhof, a Marine for nearly 20 years, was a drum major at the San Diego Marine Base until his transfer to Shanghai in 1939 and was assigned to duty in the Philippines following the Pearl Harbor disaster of Dec. 7, 1941.

The other local serviceman is Corp. Marion L. Wynne, son of Mrs. D. E. Dickinson of 4475 Saratoga Ave. He is home on a 90-day furlough after nearly four years in Jap prisons. He was freed on Sept. 16 and was brought by plane to the States from Guam following his liberation. Wynne was taken prisoner when Wake Island fell shortly after war with the Japs started. He was in prisons at Shanghai and at Hokkaido, Japan, having been released from the latter.

Corp. Wynne, who arrived home Saturday, has regained about 20 pounds of the weight he lost while in prison and is now up to 135 pounds. His physical condition is reported fairly good. He enlisted in the Marines in 1940.

Two brothers of Corp. Wynne have recently obtained their release from the Army. They are First Lieut. Albert G. Wynne, a pilot in the Air Corps, who was in the service more than three years, and Tech. Sgt. Harold M. Wynne, a radio gunner with the 15th Air Force. Harold wears the Purple Heart and the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster. A third brother, Pfc. Wayne C. Wynne, a veteran of more than two years in the Aleutian campaigns, expects to receive his discharge soon.

Celebration of Hallowe'en, Plan For Ocean Beach

Celebration of Hallowe'en in Ocean Beach is the plan started by the Boys and Girls Work committee of the local Kiwanis club. Committee Chairman Martin Murphy announced today. A. J. Morss of the Bank of America staff has been named to push the organized arrangements necessary for the big event. Morss announced today that a street costume parade at 7 p. m. on Hallowe'en night, Oct. 31, is to be a feature of the celebration.

Prizes for the best costumes are being arranged and the plan also is to have school bands taking part and a program of games also is being contemplated. In order to complete the arrangements, Chairman Morss has called a meeting of representatives of all the civic groups of Ocean Beach to be held at the Log Hut near the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock, Oct. 16. All civic leaders are invited to attend.

President J. R. Lowmes of the Chamber of Commerce has named Milt Lancaster and Dick Hilmen to represent that group. The newly formed Junior Woman's club and the Ocean Beach P. T. A. also have announced that they heartily endorse the event and aim to help as much as possible in making the arrangements, says Morss. He spoke of the plan before the P. T. A. Tuesday and before the Dana P. T. A. meeting Thursday.

BAPTIST CHURCH WILL SPONSOR EVANGELISTIC MEETING OCT. 21-NOV. 2

Ocean Beach Baptist church, of which Rev. P. O. Jensen is the pastor, announces this week that revival meetings will be held there starting Sunday, October 21 and closing on Friday evening, November 2. Evangelist Paul Whitaker of Los Angeles, director of evangelism for the Southern Baptist convention, is to conduct the series of special revival services each evening except Saturday during the period mentioned, the starting hour to be 7:30 o'clock. In preparation for the revival prayer meetings will be held every night next week except Saturday, with the classes of the Baptist Bible school in charge, announces Rev. Jensen. He issues a cordial invitation to Ocean Beach folks to attend the meetings.

Pointers Lay For La Jolla In Grid Game Set Today

Point For Initial Win In Victory League Schedule

Gunning for their initial win of the new Victory league football season, the Point Loma Pointers clash this (Friday) afternoon with La Jolla, the game set to open at 2:30 p.m. This also will be the first home game for Coach Herb. Ward's club.

Ward expects to start Joe Medina at center, otherwise the lineup will be about the same as in the Grossmont game, with Crum at quarter and Kellio and Jensen playing half and Silva fullback. The others on forward wall will likely include Blackman, Wibbenhorst, Ward, Thompson, Ahlgren and Young.

La Jolla was held to a 7-7 tie last Friday by Sweetwater High.

Loss to Grossmont
The Pointers dropped their first game of the regular Victory league season to Grossmont, 19 to 0, on the latter's field last Friday. A barefoot kicker by the name of Duane Close evidently proved to be the star of the game. He performed the rare high school stunt of booting a kickoff between the uprights and over the goal line at the start of the second half. While the Pointers were deliberating what to do about this unusual play, Jim Salas of Grossmont fell on the ball behind the goal line and the officials ruled that the Foothillers had scored a touchdown.

Grossmont scored another touchdown in the third period, which added to one in the first frame, made a total of three touchdowns. Close made the extra point from placement following the first touchdown.

In other games played last Friday, San Diego High walloped Coronado 46 to 0 and Hoover High won from El Centro on the latter's field.

OCEAN BEACH WOMEN TO OPEN ANTIQUES GIFT SHOP NOV. 1st

Mrs. Marguerite Eby and Mrs. Laura Clark, both of Ocean Beach, announce this week that they plan to open an antiques-gift shop in the Mrs. Rena Balmforth residence, 5034 Niagara Ave. about Nov. 1. They plan a unique stock of linens, silverware, pewter, china and mandarin coats.

Radical Change Made In City Council District

Local Kiwanis Club Elects New Officers Tuesday

President Next Year Will Be Martin Murphy

Ocean Beach Kiwanis club, at Tuesday's meeting, elected officers for next year, the unanimous choice of the members being Martin Murphy for president, Henry Holman for vice president and Tom Plant for treasurer. Report of the nominating committee was given by Glen Jones, chairman.

President Jerry Sullivan called on Dr. W. B. Oster, district chairman, to announce the Victory Chest drive now going on in Ocean Beach; and on A. J. Morss of the committee of youth activities to announce the committee's plans for a community-wide observance of Hallowe'en this year, with a parade to be a feature.

Visitors at Tuesday's meeting were Capt. Joe Karlick, a former classmate of Dr. Oster, now on duty with the Ninth Air Force of the army; and Harry Haelsig, assistant city planning director, a guest of Don Thomson.

Art Balduc Tells Of Rescuing 29 From Japanese

Arthur W. Balduc, 31, former chief commissary steward, veteran of four and one half years overseas duty in the submarine service, has received an honorable discharge from the Navy, the Eleventh Naval District announced today.

A resident of 4557 1/2 Saratoga Ave., Ocean Beach, the ex-chief recalled that his most exciting incident in 10 years of submarine duty occurred on New Year's eve, December 31, 1942, when a submarine on which he served while on a secret mission rescued two priests, 14 American nuns and 13 Australians from Japanese-held Bougainville Island. A rubber boat sent into the beach from the submarine in the dark of night rescued the civilians who were brought to the safety of Guadalcanal.

"After seeing the light of thanks on those people's faces, it was a happy New Year for us," the ex-submarine said.

The former chief declared that after the daring rescue the submarine continued on her patrol and sank five Japanese ships.

He was convalescing at the U.S. Naval hospital, San Diego, prior to his discharge. His wife, Mrs. Bertha Balduc, resides at the Ocean Beach address, and his mother, Mrs. A. J. Balduc, lives at Duluth, Minn.

Firing Of Anti-Aircraft Guns To End About Nov. 1

Firing of the anti-aircraft guns at the ocean point near Pacific Beach, which has been carried on during the war and for several months since the war ended at the Navy's Anti-Aircraft training school there, is scheduled to close about November 1, according to information received by the Chamber of Commerce here, Secretary Forest Whedon reported at the Tuesday meeting of that civic group. The naval authorities announced this week that the gun firing activity will be transferred afloat.

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce joined the other Chambers of Commerce groups of the beach area in a formal protest to the headquarters of the Eleventh Naval district at what seems to numerous residents in this area to be unnecessarily heavy firing of these cannon. Reasons why this firing should be carried on so long after the war had ended is not readily apparent to the populace affected and the Navy has made no public announcement as yet why it should be necessary.

Ocean Beach Placed In Two Council Districts

Ocean Beach has been practically cut in two in the re-districting of the city's councilmanic districts, according to action taken by the city council assisted by City Clerk Fred Sick. Purpose announced by the council is to equalize the voting strength in the various councilmanic districts of the city. The plan is understood to be to make all the six districts of around 20,000 voters each.

District number one, in which Ocean Beach has been previously, has been top-heavy on voting strength compared with other districts of the city. The News is informed, hence the boundary changes here.

Under the new boundaries in Ocean Beach, as announced, all that remains in district number one of Ocean Beach is the section between Niagara Ave. and Mission Bay and between Ebers St. and Seaside St. and the ocean. The remaining area of Ocean Beach has been placed in district number two, which is now represented by Charles B. Wincote as councilman. District one is represented by Councilman G. C. Cray of La Jolla.

Political leaders in Ocean Beach this week expressed some concern over the change of boundaries and wondered how Ocean Beach would ever be able to nominate a councilman from Ocean Beach since under the new arrangement of boundaries the part of Ocean Beach that will remain in district number one is almost certain to be out-voted by the more populous sections of the area included in the new boundaries of district one, and the same voting minority situation would no doubt prevail in district number two.

Hartvigsen Home From Aleutians

Staff Sgt. H. A. Hartvigsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hartvigsen of Newport Ave. arrived home Wednesday at Lindbergh field, ending three years and five months duty in the Aleutian islands and four and a half months of continental service. He received his honorable discharge at Ft. McArthur on Monday.

Return home from Adak island was made via Cold Bay and Naknek, then two weeks in Anchorage, Alaska. Planes bring most of the soldiers to the mainland or as far as Seattle, he says.

Hartvigsen was an early arrival in the Aleutians, landing on Umnak island with army engineers when the Japanese were active in that section in May, 1942. In September of the same year the same outfit made a landing on Adak and experienced a rugged time for several months there setting up preliminary headquarters with limited supplies. After camp was well established a base radio station was needed which was set up and manned by Hartvigsen and another technician. This Armed Force radio station WXLB grew into a valuable addition for the camp employing a dozen in its personnel at the end of the war.

Citations received by the sergeant were Asiatic Pacific Campaign medal with bronze star, Good Conduct medal with clasp, American Campaign medal and the Meritorious Service wreath.

Mr. and Mrs. Guido E. Faber have purchased the residence at 5010 Saratoga Ave. and expect to move in soon as the painting and decorating have been completed and their furniture arrives here from New Orleans. In the meantime they are living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Faber of 4967 Saratoga. Guido is now associated with his father in the operation of Faber's store on Newport Ave. He and his wife recently returned from New Orleans, where he was employed 18 months as a foreman in the Convoir factory. He has completed five years of work for that firm most of it in the local airplane factory.

GOD IS MY CO-PILOT

By COL. ROBERT L. SCOTT

CHAPTER XXII: In which Scott tells about his friend, Major "Tex" Hill, to whom he owes his life. Maj. Allison is hit and tries to land his crippled bomber at night.

CHAPTER XXIII: Maj. Allison, who had crashed in the river and had been given up for lost, comes back in a sedan chair carried by admiring Chinese. Chinese coolies and rivermen by means of a method over three thousand years old raise and salvage the sunken P-40.

CHAPTER XXIV: The lighter side of life in China. The fight put up by Lt. Dallas Clinger of Wyoming.

CHAPTER XXV: Capt. Charlie Sawyer crashlands and is unable to identify himself. Tribesmen get set to execute him but some new arrival saves him.

CHAPTER XXVI: The "Old Exterminator" gets into another fight and one more Jap will never fly again. The YK-10 is so badly mauled it is condemned from further use. Col. Scott gets a new P-40E.

CHAPTER XXVII: Another "probable" for Scott. Lt. Daniels is wounded and Maj. Bruce Holloway is shot down, but crashlands in a rice paddy.

fighters that must be coming. The white stars on the upper wings of the bombers below were like an American flag waving, and it gave me the same feeling that I get when I see home after a long absence. As loud as I could against the roar of the engine, I shouted: "Come up, you devils!"

I saw the yellow bombs begin to fall in long strings, imposed on the dark green of the world below. They got smaller and smaller as the noses pointed slowly down. Remembering my movie camera, I tried to take pictures of the explosions. The bombs seemed to take years to fall, and I began to think they were all duds. The ack-ack burst closer as the Japs got the range while we went straight in. I know I was never more excited in all my life. I yelled, "Okay, Hirohito—we have lots more where those came from!" I kept looking behind and under us for the bombs to burst.

And then I saw the first white explosion—right on the docks of Kowloon. After that they came so fast you couldn't count them. I let my camera run as the explosions turned from white to black—there were oil-fires now. I could see the flash of the anti-aircraft guns from the North shore of Hongkong Island, as we continued across Victoria harbor. I risked another look at the target; it was covered with smoke from one end to the other. Then I got my eyes back to searching for enemy interceptors—we had to be extra careful now.

Why in hell didn't the bombers turn for home? They had dropped the damn bombs, but they were still going on endlessly towards that point of Shek Tong Tsui. All of us were keyed up. But then the long javelin of B-25's began to turn to the right. Mission accomplished—now they had the down-hill run to base, and I began to get that old feeling of relief. Then, somehow, I felt cheated. Where were the enemy fighters? I raised my camera, sighted again, and took the formation as it swung over the burning docks.

Then, as I glanced about, I saw them, silhouette after silhouette, climbing terribly steeply towards the bombers. I know now that they had got there from Kai Tak below in four minutes; they had made the sixteen thousand feet in that short time. I felt my camera drop to my lap, hit my knee, then drop to the metal floor of the fighter. I was fumbling now for the "mike" button on the throttle; then I was calling: "Bandits ahead—Zerooooo! At eleven o'clock." Fumbling again for the throttle quadrant, showing everything as far forward as I could, I marvelled at the steepness of the climb the enemy ships were maintaining. I called: "Zeros at twelve o'clock," to designate their direction clock-fashion from us. I heard Tex Hill reply: "Hell, I see 'em." I could hear the jabber of the Japs still trying to block our frequency.

I was diving now, aiming for the lead Zero, turning my gunsight on and off, a little nervously checking again and again to see that the gun-switch was "on." I jerked the belly-tank release and felt the underslung fifty-gallon bamboo tank drop off. We rolled to our backs to gain speed for the attack and went hell-bent for the Zeros. I kept the first Zero right in the lighted sight and began to fire from over a thousand yards, for he was too close to the bombers. Orange tracers were coming from the B-25's too, as the turret gunners went to work.

Five hundred yards before I got to the Zero, I saw another P-40 bearing the number 151 speed in and take it. That was Tex Hill. He followed the Zero as it tried to turn sharply into the bombers and shot it down. Tex spun from his tight turn as the Jap burst into flames. I took the next Zero—they seemed to be all over the sky now. I went so close that I could see the pilot's head through the glass canopy and the little tail-wheel that was not retracted, and I knew it was a Navy Zero—the little wheel was built for the arresting-gear of a carrier. My tracers entered the cockpit and smoke poured back, hiding the canopy, and I went by.

As I turned to take another ship below me, I saw four airplanes falling in flames towards the waters of Victoria harbor. I half rolled again and skidded in my dive to shake any Zero that might be on my tail. I saw another P-40 shooting at a Jap, but there was a Zero right on his tail. I dove for this one. He grew in my sights, and as my tracers crossed in front of him he turned into me. I shot him down as his ship seemed to stand still in the vertical bank. The ship was three or four hundred yards from me, and it fell towards the water for a time that seemed ages. An explosion came, and there was only black smoke; then I could see the ship again, falling, turning in a slow spin, down—down—down.

I shot at everything I saw. Sometimes it was just a short burst as the Jap went in for our bombers. Sometimes I fired at one that was turning, and as I'd keep reefing back on my stick, my ship would spin, and I'd recover far below. I shot down another ship that didn't see me. I got it with one short burst from directly astern, a no-deflection shot. In this attack I could see the Japanese ship vibrate as my burst of six fifty-caliber guns hit it. First it just shook, then one wing went off. I saw the canopy shot completely off; then I went across it. Turning back in a dive to keep my speed, I watched the enemy ship, as it dove straight down, stream flames for a distance the length of the airplane behind.

CHAPTER XXIV

As I looked around now the bombers were gone, but climbing up from the South I saw four twin-engine ships that I thought were I-45's; later we decided they were Japanese Messerschmitts. I had plenty of altitude on the leader, and started shooting at him from long range, concentrating on his right engine. He turned to dive, and I followed him straight for the water. I remember grinning, for he had made the usual mistake of diving instead of climbing. But as I drew up on the twin-engine ship, I began to believe that I had hit him from the long range. His ship was losing altitude rapidly in a power glide, but he was making no effort to turn. I came up to within fifty yards and fired into him until he burned. I saw the ship hit the water and continue to burn. We had been going towards the fog bank in the direction of the Philippines, and I wondered if the Jap had been running for Manila.

I shot at two of the other twin-engine ships from long range but couldn't climb up to them. Then I passed over Hongkong Island, flying at a thousand feet; I was too low but didn't want to waste any time climbing. And I saw something that gripped my heart—a fenced-in enclosure which I knew was Fort Stanley, the British and American prison camp. There was a large group standing in the camp and waving at my ship. My saddest feeling of the war came over me then. Here were soldiers who had been prisoners of the Japanese for nearly a year. Month after month they had waited for the sight of Allied airplanes attacking Hongkong—and at last it had come. Even in their suffering they were waving a cheer to the few United States planes that had finally come, and I swore to myself I'd come back again and again.

Then I saw above me the criss-crossing vapor paths of an area where fighter ships have sped through an air attack. They almost covered the sky in a cloud. Here and there were darker lines that could have been smoke paths where ships had burned and gone down to destruction.

I was rudely jerked back to attention by a slow voice that yet was sharp: "If that's a P-40 in front of me, waggle your wings." I rocked my wings before I looked. Then I saw the other ship, a P-40 nearly a mile away. I think from the voice it was Tex Hill. I went over towards him and together we dove towards home.

The presence of the other P-40 made me feel very arrogant and egotistical, for I had shot down four enemy ships and had damaged others. So I looped above Victoria harbor and dove for the Peninsular Hotel. My tracers ripped into the shining plate-glass of the penthouses on its top, and I saw the broken windows cascade like snow to the streets, many floors below. I laughed, for I knew that behind those windows were Japanese high officers, enjoying that modern hotel. When I got closer I could see uniformed figures going down the fire-escapes, and I shot at them. In the smoke of Kowloon I could smell oil and rubber. I turned for one more run on the packed fire-escapes filled with Jap soldiers, but my next burst ended very suddenly. I was out of ammunition. Then, right into the smoke and through it right down to the tree-top levels, I headed Northwest to get out of Japanese territory sooner, and went as fast as I could for Kweilin.

I was the last ship in, and the General was anxiously waiting for me, scanning the sky for ships to come in. He knew I had shot down an enemy, for I had come in with my low-altitude roll of victory. But when I jumped from my cramped seat and said, "General, I got four definitely," he shook my hand and looked very happy. "That makes nineteen then," he said, "for the fighters and the bombers."

We had lost a fighter and a bomber. The bomber had become a straggler when one engine was hit by anti-aircraft; then it was shot to pieces by one of the twin-engine Jap fighters. The pilot had managed even then to get it down, but he had remained in the ship, to destroy the bomb-sight, and had been shot through the foot by a Jap cannon. Two of the bomber crew had bailed out and were captured. The other two carried the injured pilot until he had begged them to leave him alone and escape. They had bandaged his foot tightly, but had refused to go without him.

As they moved on through the enemy lines that night, they stopped to rest, and the wounded pilot crawled away from them to insure their getting away to the guerrilla lines. They escaped, and later we received a letter signed by the other two crewmen which said that the pilot had been captured and was then in a Japanese propaganda leaflet that the Japs had dropped near Kweilin, but being properly signed, it gave us hope for the remainder of the crew, and for the heroic pilot, Lieutenant Allers.

That night Morgan led a night raid to bomb Canton, and had a successful attack. Later the same night, Ed Bayse led six bombers to destroy the power station on Hongkong Island. In his return to Kweilin, five of his ships landed but the other continued to circle—informed the radioman that he had no air speed and thus was having difficulty bringing the fast bomber in to land. Bayse, who had worked all the day and most of the night over enemy lines, started his ship and went aloft, got the other ship on his wing in formation, and told the pilot to keep the position. And then this experienced bomber pilot led the younger pilot in to a safe landing. It was teamwork of the sort that had begun to appear among the bomber crews, and more important still, as the co-ordinated attack had shown, between the fighters and bombers. This was what Colonel Cooper had been working for during the past several months.

Cooper had done another fine job, one that we learned of only after we returned to Kunming from the attack. In India the field in Assam had been raided heavily by the Japanese at the same hour as our attack on Kowloon, and simultaneously the Japanese had tried to strike at Kunming with a large force. Colonel Cooper had been left behind in the hospital with a sinus infection. He was chafing at the bit, and we sympathized with him—for after lots. Lots in the area total 5900, he said, and the building sites total 3260. Residential units, he said, total 1662, of which 1577 are residences and 85 are apartments.

Business Zone, 77 acres

Of the total of 474 acres, 77 acres are zoned for business purposes, which 77 acres provide 18,400 front feet in the business zone. "We find here," he said, "35 feet of business house frontage for each 100 population, which should be sufficient for a maximum population of 53,000, using the ratios ordinarily computed for one and two-story business structures."

Ocean Beach area, as he outlined it, he said, had an estimated population of 4,100 Jan. 1, 1933 and that by Jan. 1, 1940 this total had increased to 6,400. The U. S. census of April 8, 1940 showed the total then to be 6,900, he said, and the figure now would be roughly estimated at 11,000. His totals do not include the Azure Vista, the Sunset Cliffs and the Riviera Villa sections of the Ocean Beach community.

Haelsig declared that the northwest section of Ocean Beach is one of the most densely populated areas of San Diego, having reached a density of 38.6 persons per acre by 1940.

Discuss Parking Problems

At the conclusion of Haelsig's talk, the members carried on a lively discussion, particularly of the parking problem and how best to solve it. Parking meters were suggested as one help and parking lots laid out and managed by the various business houses to be served as another solution. Haelsig said the modern method in other cities now being carried out is what he termed "off street" parking, lots adjoining business houses being set apart for such purpose.

New business houses and increasing trading in the Ocean Beach business district is rapidly making some better method of parking imperative for Ocean Beach folks trading here, he indicated.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN HURT WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO; DRIVER BOOKED IN JAIL

Mrs. Rozene Ferguson, 47, and Mrs. Mildred Lytton, also 47, both of Hotel Ocean Village, were injured and taken to the Naval hospital for treatment as result of being struck, while walking, by a car driven by Tull Shelby, 48, a cook who gave his address as 715 Broadway, traffic officers reported this week. The accident happened early Sunday morning at the Bacon St. intersection with W. Point Loma Blvd., after which Shelby's car crashed into another auto being driven by a San Diego woman the officers stated. Shelby was arrested on charges of reckless driving and with having no driver's license and was booked in the city jail.

CABRILLO OPENS NEW CLEANERS AND LAUNDRY BUILDING ON MONDAY

Cabrillo Cleaners & Laundry opened their new store and business structure on Cable St. in Ocean Beach Monday, having moved from the residential building across the alley south. Many compliments were heard from visitors who have inspected the new structure this week. Mrs. L. G. Macklin, the sales manager for the firm, asks The News to extend, in behalf of the owners, thanks for the many courtesies extended and for the flowers presented.

The News was asked also to announce this week that there are two owners of the Cabrillo stores of this city, that besides Carl Maffioli, who was mentioned last week, that Donald Dix of Ocean Beach is a co-owner. Dix is now with the Armed Forces in Europe and is on duty with the Army's medical corps. He is a technician fifth class and has been serving overseas since Jan. 18, 1945.

of the life of a Washington, D. C. news correspondent was interestingly told to the Kiwanis club by Richard F. Pourade, city editor of the San Diego Union. He told intimately of the correspondent's experiences getting the news from the highest officials of the administration, and particularly from the president of the United States. Pourade spoke from his year of experience in Washington as a correspondent for the San Diego Union and Tribune-Sun.

The getting of news in the nation's capital has been organized into a system that makes Washington probably the easiest large city in the country in which to gather the news for the dailies, declared the speaker. A feature of the system, of course, said Pourade is the now well known press conference that the president of the United States gives regularly to the representatives of the press.

He described President Truman as particularly friendly to the press, compared with previous presidents. Truman's main weakness as shown thus far lies in his tendency to talk too much, as the result of which the president has already got himself in "hot water" a number of times, he stated. Truman also is on unusually friendly terms with Congress though he is having considerable difficulty to get Congress to go along with him on administrative recommendations, particularly on domestic measures. The speaker also indicated that Truman is exhibiting a tendency to veer to the "left."

Welcome Home!

2,393 veterans have already come back to work for the Southern Pacific

We are justly proud of the 20,013 Southern Pacific men and women who joined the armed forces. Those who have been discharged, we gladly welcome back to the Southern Pacific.

Our policy in re-employing veterans is very simple. The Southern Pacific Company wants its family together again.

While these men and women were away, their seniority advanced just as if they were here on the job. Their continuity of service has been maintained for pension purposes. And Southern Pacific has arranged with the Veterans Administration to participate in a program of training courses for our partially disabled veterans.

We believe that most of our re-turning war veterans will want to come back with us. Already, of the 2,768 former Southern Pacific people returned to civilian life, 2,393 have come back to work for their railroad.

These people know that Southern Pacific's war work did not end with the surrender of Japan. Millions of men from overseas must still be returned to their homes.

That so many of our veterans came back to Southern Pacific indicates a determination to finish the job and a faith in our Company's future that makes me, personally, very proud of every one of them.

250 Parents Join P. T. A. In First Week Of Drive

(By Mrs. Ralph Follick)

A total of 250 parents joined the Ocean Beach Parents and Teachers association during the first week of the membership drive, announces Mrs. Robert Myers, membership chairman. This is an excellent beginning and a substantial increase is expected during this second week of the campaign for as many parents as possible to join. Last year the total membership was 321. With your help it can pass the 400-mark. It's fun to belong.

Mrs. Louise Olson, Ocean Beach P. T. A. president, entertained the Beach council at luncheon Wednesday, October 10 at her home 2054 Ebers St. The president of the San Diego Council of the P. T. A., the counsellor of the Beach council and the president and one chairman from each of the following school units attended the luncheon: La Jolla, Pacific Beach, Mission Beach, Bayview Terrace, Bay Park Village, Ocean Beach, Fremont, Cabrillo, George Dewey, Loma Portal and Azure Vista. A business session was held from 10-12 noon to discuss ways and means of raising funds and also the best methods of

State College To Play Arizona In Shrine Game

Committee members and chairman of Al Bahr Shrine temple's eighth annual charity football game and military pageant are busy this week making arrangements for the event Saturday, Oct. 20 in Balboa stadium which will feature the outstanding football game of this year's season in San Diego—State College vs. the University of Arizona.

A special ticket booth has been opened on the Plaza at Fourth and Broadway. Tickets also may be purchased in the lobby of the U. S. Grant hotel.

Hundreds of servicemen will participate in the pageant at 7:15 p. m. which will proceed the kickoff for the game which is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. State College's showing against the University of Redlands and Caltech has done much to stimulate interest in the forthcoming Arizona contest among San Diego followers of the gridiron sport.

Plan Tribute To Victorious Fleet, Navy Day, Oct. 27

A county-wide observance of Navy Day Saturday, Oct. 27, with San Diego the center of a five-day celebration that is expected to be the greatest of its kind in the area's history, will mark the visit to San Diego harbor of eight warships of Adm. William Halsey's famed Third Fleet.

Parades, pageants and special programs in the Balboa Park stadium are among the many events now being planned. Of prime interest will be the opening of part of the Embarcadero to permit the public to go aboard war craft that will be tied to piers.

The vessels, all of which participated in the destruction of Japan power, will be the battleship West Virginia, carrier Cowpens, two destroyers, three submarines, and the cruiser San Diego which not only wrote a brilliant chapter in the history of Pacific warfare but was selected for the honor of leading U. S. fleet units into Tokyo after the Jap defeat.

Highlights of the five days of extraordinary events will include:

Oct. 25—Arrival of seven vessels of the Third Fleet, headed by the battle-scarred West Virginia.

Oct. 26—Arrival of U. S. S. San Diego.

Oct. 27—Navy Day observance, parades, and stadium program.

Oct. 28—Opening of Embarcadero, and visits to warships.

Oct. 29—Social events in connection with opening of Victory Loan campaign.

"Ocean Beach as well as every community in the county is being invited to participate in what will be our official Victory celebration," says Charles Davies, general chairman.

Ocean Beach Camp & Hospital

When a birthday cake is given to a boy in the hospital Miss Nye always sends a small gift. Right now she has come to the bottom of her gift box and asks you ladies to please donate small gifts such as a nice cake of soap, a handkerchief, a wash cloth, game (small) or deck of cards. Things you know boys like.

Mrs. Finn asks that you donate your old golf balls no matter in what condition they are. Please do this, also we want you to bring in new Christmas cards that the boys can mail home.

Last week's paper said "shop" sticks but the article was "chop" sticks such as camphor ice or any healing stick on the market.

Ocean Beach is falling down on her cake baking. Mission Beach is doing a wonderful job of it but they bake every other week. This week was Mission Beach week. Will Ocean Beach women please bake more this coming week? We can have sugar by coming or sending to the Center and we have fats without red points. Please bake, and make life a little brighter for those hospitalized boys.

Please donate the articles ask for this week. They are badly needed. A truck goes in every Thursday morning. Have them here before then.

Beach women have never failed and I am sure you will not this time. The price is small for the peace these boys have helped win.

Christian Science Text Declares Disease Unreal

Isaiah supplies this Golden Text for the Sunday Lesson—Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston: "Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities."

The inhabitant shall not say, I am sick; the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity. The question "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject.

John's Gospel relates that a nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum, besought Jesus, saying, "Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way. And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth. . . . Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth; and himself believed, and his whole house."

"Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She also says, "The humble Nazarene overthrew the supposition that sin, sickness, and death have power. He proved them powerless."

Satin Goes on Parade In Fashion Picture

Elegant Fabric Being Used In Many Clever Ways.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Satin is making front page headlines in the fashion news of the day. The use of satin in the fall mode is simply tremendous. It would seem as if designers had never been so satin-conscious as they are today.

Dresses entirely of satin vie with those that go 50-50 satin with crepe. A favorite choice with best-dressed women for wear during the early autumn days is a handsome satin dress styled with utmost sophistication, with which they wear a luxuriant fur stole. Even the hat is apt to be of matching satin, for milliners are turning out stunning headwear made of it. The draped satin turbans are most imposing as they soar to skyscraper heights. Then too, tall-crowned types with wee brims are animated with jeweled embroidery and they take on a truly regal air.

This year the restaurant suit of satin ranks high in style prestige. While there are many versions of the restaurant suit, the type liked most is characterized by its simplicity and by its definitely new look because of its soft shoulders, wide wing sleeves and modish cardigan neckline. These call for beguiling blouses which are more or less glitter-embroidered. In the daytime, the suit can be tuned to informal environment via a simple white blouse with a self-fabric bow tie. There is refined elegance in an exquisitely fine lace trimmed lingerie worn with the satin suit.

The satin tunic suit carries the "new look" which will command attention wherever it goes. It observes all the latest style details such as wide wing sleeves, belted-in waistline, novel diagonal fastenings and either flared or straightline tunics.

The dress that is part crepe and part satin is regarded as one of the big success fashions of the season. There is no end to the novel uses of the satin. Sometimes a mere touch of satin transforms a basic black dress into a stunning gown. Such is the simple black crepe gown that has bows bursting out of the most unexpected places, a huge one on the skirt just above the hemline, with a satin sash that ties in a pert bustle bow, and at each wristline a sprightly bow fluttering out most attractively.

In fact, designers are simply doing anything their fancy dictates with satin. The newest dickerers are made either of black satin or in lush colors or lovely pastels. You'll be seeing contrast sleeves of satin, also yokes and blouse tops that are one-half satin and half a contrasting material.

New Bolero Ideas

There are boleros for grown-ups and there are boleros for youngsters in today's fashion picture. When it comes to the bolero costume for little daughter the theme takes on high enthusiasm, for it's fun to cater to little folks' whims. Mothers have found the bolero idea so practical for little girls they like to include more than one in their wardrobe. If the material is a loosely woven wool plaid it is easy to fray the edges for a decorative fringe after the manner shown above. The little girl pictured below looks cunning in her ric rac trimmed bolero outfit. A self-fringe trimming is also suggested as "something different."

Style Notes

Color contrasts were never more vivid. Electric and royal blue are in the color news.

Turtle-top is the smart girl's neckline this season.

Basic dress with wing sleeves is a fashion-right buy.

White fur daytime coats make a new style contribution to the fall mode.

COLUMBUS DAY

When Columbus planted the flag of Spain on the island of San Salvador on the morning of October 12, 1492, he had charted a path to the New World not only through unknown seas but through the forbidding waters of fear, doubt and superstition.

His discovery did more than open new realms of territory, it opened new realms of thought. The mental shackles dropped away that had kept men close to the shores of the Old World for fear that they would "fall off the earth" if they ventured out too far.

We declare the obvious when we say that in this year of 1945 the day of discovery is not ended but is hardly begun. Unknown lands are now few, but in virtually every field of human endeavor vast stores of knowledge remain yet untapped.

In the past half century explorers in science such as Thomas Edison have given us—literally—a brighter world. Shortly after the turn of the century Henry Ford began to blaze a path in the field of production that has brought about a great industrial revolution. In the field of research Dr. Lawrence and Dr. Oppenheimer of the University of California typify the modern day Columbus seeking out new worlds of atomic power.

New horizons will always lie before us to challenge the Columbuses of today and tomorrow to plunge into the unknown and thus lead the world on to greater knowledge and greater freedom.

WORLD CAPITAL

California is "in" as the future home of the world security organization—we hope.

At any rate, the decision of the United Nations Preparatory commission to establish the World capital in the United States virtually narrows the final choice between two cities—San Francisco and Philadelphia. And from all indications San Francisco holds a distinct edge.

Diplomats who visited our state a few months ago were enthusiastic about California and its City by the Golden Gate. They are not so familiar with Philadelphia. Then, too, the fact that the West coast is not within the Washington "orbit" is in our favor for it is felt that international matters can be thrashed out better in an atmosphere not dominated by the capital of a large nation.

In selecting the United States as the permanent seat of the world security organization the committee passed up Geneva, the home of the old League of Nations, with its vast and impressive halls that were built in the hope that there the formula for world harmony could be found.

Let us hope and pray that the leaders of the nations will realize that something besides beautiful buildings must be constructed if the new association is not to follow in the path of the old. The real construction work must be done not merely with the hands of workmen but with the hearts and minds of world statesmen.

As much as we Californians want the new World capital to be established in our state, we desire far more that the security organization will not be a magnificent vacuum of stone and marble but a living, throbbing structure built upon the sincere faith and confidence of men in each other, which is our only real hope of a lasting peace.

If good people would but make their goodness agreeable, and smile instead of frowning in their virtue, how many would they win to the good cause. —Usher

Asked For It

A minister, traveling on one of those waytrains that stop at every station on the side line, was reading his Bible.

"Find anything about the railroad in that book?" asked the conductor, as he reached for the minister's ticket.

"Yes," replied the minister. "In the very first chapter it says that the Lord made every creeping thing."

Lieutenant: "The WAVE who sneaked out of the barracks last night and met a sailor over by that tree will step forward. Er... uh... Detail, Halt!"

"Well, Doc, you sure kept your promise when you said you'd have me walking again in a month."

"Good. I'm glad to hear that."

"Yeah. I had to sell my car when I got your bill."

"Hey, Moe, when you have your tonsils removed, they call it a tonsillectomy; when you have your appendix removed, they call it an appendectomy—what do they call it when you have a growth removed from your head?"

Moe: "Don't know, Joe. Tell me."

Joe: "A hair cut;"

"Would you give 10 cents to help the Old Ladies' Home?"

"What? Are they out again?"

Off The Range

On old cowboy went to the city and registered at a hotel for the first time in his life. The clerk asked him if he wanted a room with running water.

"Heck, no!" the cowboy yelled. "What do you think I am, a trout?"

Cute nurse—"There's one patient in my ward who doesn't try to make love to me."

Second cute nurse—"One of my patients is unconscious too."

"And now gentlemen," continued the Congressman at this press conference, "I wish to tax your memory."

"Good heavens," muttered the reporter, "has it come to that?"

About Right

A colored porter in a hotel was asked why rich men usually give him small tips, while poor men are liberal.

"Well, suh, boss, Ah don't know, 'cept the rich man don't want nobody to know he's rich, and the po' man don't want nobody to know he's po'."

"Papa, vat's a vacuum?"
"A vacuum is a void, my boy."
"I know, papa, but vat's de void mean?"

The first officer called a deck hand to him and said: "Go below and break up that crap game." The sailor disappeared below and remained for the better part of an hour.

Upon his return his superior officer demanded: "Did you succeed in breaking up the game?"

"Yes, sir," the sailor replied. "Well, what in thunder took you so long?"

"Well, sir," the gob replied. "I only had a quarter to start with."

First Motorist: "I love the beauties of the countryside."

Second Motorist: "So do I. Sometimes I give 'em a lift."

Mama Mosquito: "If you children are good, I'll take you to the nudist camp tonight."

The highest wisdom is continual cheerfulness; such a state, like the region above the moon, is always clear and serene.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hayden and sons Lee and Kent formerly of Milwaukee, Wis., are new occupants of Apt. 846 Cornish Dr.

Mrs. L. H. Green, Susane Rae and Mrs. Nelle Hewitt of 4460 Marcellus St. returned home last week from a two week's visit with friends in Modesto, Calif.

Mrs. C. A. Campbell and little daughter Charlene who have been living for the past two months at 4458 Monaco St. returned to Weatherford, Okla. last Tuesday. Mrs. Campbell's husband S. 1/c Charles Campbell was recently transferred to Chicago for instruction in radio. His family expect to join him there in a short time.

Dressmaker Touch

Many of the new fabrics are made of rayon and aralac, the latter a new fiber made from casein of milk. Combining fibers in this manner produces lovely soft fabrics with the feel of wool and the drapability of silk. The material used for the exquisitely simple one-piece frock shown is a handsome soft flannel of the new rayon-aralac type. The dressmaker touch is seen in the streamers of self fabric laced through silver eyelets on the blouse and belt. Front tucks, slit pockets and a kick pleat give skirt interest.

Unveiling of the latest painting by Ocean Beach's 75-year-old musician painter and cobbler, J. T. Smith, will be an event of Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Linda Vista Baptist church. For the past four months during his spare time at his shoe shop on India Street, Mr. Smith has been working on this painting he will present to the church. It is a landscape scene centering around a lake. The picture, 12 feet by 6 feet, will occupy the space behind the Baptistry, making a baptism indeed realistic. Mr. Smith will play on the organ he made from three old ones. A special invitation is extended to his Ocean Beach friends to attend the presentation of the painting.

We note with interest pictures in Sunday's Union of two Ocean Beach girls that are contestants for the "Cover Girl of 1945" of State College beauties. The contest is being held by the News Letter, a publication sent to all servicemen who formerly attended State College. Miss Wilberta Jarrard, daughter of Mrs. Betty Jarrard, 3451 Arthur Ave. grew up in Ocean Beach and lived on Voltaire and Cable St. where years ago her grandfather Mr. Wilts operated a small neighborhood bakery. Miss Perrietta Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry A. Burke, 4628 Tivoli St., is a blond, decidedly photogenic and a running mate for brunettes Wilberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Silberhorn (Betty Baxter) and their year old son, Michael former residents of Ocean Beach, who now make their home in Pacific Beach, have gone to Chicago to visit Mr. Silberhorn's mother who is ill. They plan to return here the first of November. Mr. Silberhorn was recently discharged from the Navy as chief specialist.

Chaplain Myron C. Insko, Lt. (jg) USNR and Mrs. Insko. announce the birth of their third child, born Thursday, October 4. Allan Bruce Insko weighed 7 pounds 1 ounce and will soon join his sister Marcia Luann and brother Myron Dean at the home of his paternal grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Myron Insko, 4565 Brighton Ave. His maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Richmond, formerly of Holtville, now reside in San Bernardino. Chaplain Insko has not had the pleasure of meeting his new son as he is assigned to a transport now in Pacific waters.

Lamont Insko, who for the past 34 months has been a member of the Coast Guard, arrived home Sept. 25 holding a discharge and ready to re-enter school. He arrived in Seattle four weeks ago from the Philippines where he spent eight months. Before that he was in New Guinea. After returning home he lost little time in re-enrolling in school and in February hopes to take a vocational course in automotive mechanics.

The Sacred Heart church Altar Society will hold a card party Monday, October 15 at 8 p. m. in the parish hall. Various games will be played and there will be cash prizes and door prizes. Mrs. J. Miller is chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. Warfield, A. Oldham, S. Mahen, T. Conway, C. Clark, H. Smith, W. Giesen, S. Mehling, K. Tursky and Dolan. Reservations for the Catholic Council luncheon to be held October 15 should be made with Mrs. J. Miller, B-3066.

Mrs. Annie Mulville this week moved back into her home at the corner of Del Mar Ave. and Cable St. For several months she has been living at 4867 Santa Monica

Congress Gives Honor Medal To Bumbaugh's Pal

The famous Congressional Medal of Honor has been given to Capt. Joseph McCarthy of Chicago, chum of R. J. Bumbaugh of 5076 Saratoga Ave., a former sergeant in the U. S. Marine Corps. Capt. McCarthy, also of the Marine Corps, left here about two weeks ago after being on special duty at Camp Elliott. During his stay at Camp Elliott he had been a visitor several times at the Bumbaugh home. When the captain was married at Coronado in 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Bumbaugh were the best man and matron of honor.

Going to Washington D. C. from here, Capt. McCarthy received the Medal of Honor there on Friday, October 5. His home is in Chicago, where he was a former member of the fire department, and he is the fourth Chicago serviceman to receive the high honor accorded his Friday.

McCarthy's heroism in taking Hill No. 362 on Iwo Jima won him the nation's highest decoration. He also wears the Silver Star for action on Saipan.

Bumbaugh Given Release
The former Sergeant Bumbaugh is now a civilian, having received his release from the Marines on Sept. 21 after 12 years of duty, the first eight being in the Marine Corps Reserve. He recently returned from 2½ years of duty in the Southwest Pacific theatre, and is now employed here by the Ocean Beach Lumber Company.

Ave. adjoining the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Royal Wilts immediately moved into the Santa Monica Ave. home.

A series of nine sermons on the New Testament conversions Sunday evenings at 7:30 will be delivered by James O. Wilburn, new minister of the Church of God on Abbott St. During the hour from 6:30 until 7:30 Sunday evening a study of the last Book of the Bible, Revelations, will be held.

Robert E. Barlow, RM2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Barlow, 2327 Etiwanda St. arrived home Tuesday evening after ten months overseas. He has been in the Navy the past three years, but has now received his discharge. Robert is a graduate of Point Loma High. During the months he was overseas he was stationed on Ulithi Island, near the Philippines.

Mrs. Charles M. Allen, 4849 Saratoga Ave., entertained at luncheon and bridge on Monday with Misses James Oliver, Billy Kocar, I. A. Hegerle, Lucille Tenney, Aug. Miller, Genevieve Steward and Hallie Engler as her guests. During the evening Mrs. Allen again entertained. Guests enjoying playing poker were, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee, Mrs. James Bowker, Mrs. Lyn Van Vorst and daughter Judy Ann and "Pop."

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frazier of National City were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Archambeau, 1930 Froude St.

Mrs. James Abbey 4430 Long Branch Ave., returned home on Saturday after spending nearly a week in Los Angeles and Hollywood visiting friends. While in Hollywood she attended a farewell party given in honor of her aunt Mrs. James Dickson who will soon leave for her home in Caracas, Venezuela, S. A. While in the northern cities she met a cousin, the former Miss Adelaide Buchanan of Cuba, recently wed to Lieut. Donald Ryerson of Hollywood.

Mrs. Rosimay Phillips became the bride of James Devore Sunday in Flora, Ill. Mr. Devore is a discharged navy man and the couple will make their home there. For the past year the bride has made her home with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Charles Archambeau, 1930 Froude St.

FREDRICKS WRITE IN APPRECIATION OF HELP GIVEN THEM BY FRIENDS

Willis LeJeune of 5009 Niagara Ave. last week received a letter of appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frederick of Grants Pass, Ore. for the splendid financial help given them by friends here toward the rebuilding of their home at Grants Pass. They had recently lost their new home there by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick are former residents of Ocean Beach and recently moved to Oregon.

WALTER WOODSON CRAFT PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 50 AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Walter Woodson Craft of 4410 Santa Monica Ave. died Monday at a local hospital after a long illness. Funeral services for him were conducted Thursday forenoon at the Johnson-Saum chapel and burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

He was born in Scott county, Va. April 28, 1895 and had been a resident here for 14 years. Craft was a member of the Fraternal order of Eagles, of San Diego Lodge No. 168 of the B. P. O. Elks and of the Bartenders Union, local No. 500. He also was a veteran of World War I.

Bereft are his widow, Bonnie Craft who has been prominent in civic affairs in Ocean Beach and had been a member of the Coordinating Council; four children, Walter, Robert, Marianne and John; five brothers, George W. and Creed Craft, both of San Diego, James L. Craft of Texas and Charles F. Craft of Ketchikan, Alaska and Wm. H. Craft of Tacoma, Wash.; and two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Craft and Loretta Milos, both of Tacoma.

JOHN DEWAR RELEASED FROM NAVY AFTER THREE YEARS, EIGHT MONTHS

John M. Dewar, chief specialist "Q", who has been in the Navy for three years and eight months, was given his discharge Monday and is at home, 4851 Brighton Ave. For the past nine months he had land base duty on Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands and returned to the States last week on the aircraft carrier, Hornet. He received his discharge at the San Pedro Naval Base. Previous to going overseas he was on duty for about three years at Imperial Beach near Mexico. His wife is Thelma Dewar of the escrow department of the local Bank of America.

REV. ROBERTS ATTENDS DISTRICT CONVENTION, KIWANIS, IN BERKELEY

Rev. James F. Roberts of Ocean Beach, who is district chairman of the Kiwanis work for underprivileged children for the local district, was in Berkeley, Calif. Wednesday and Thursday in attendance at the district Kiwanis convention of the California-Nevada district.

IN THE SERVICE

Ens. W. E. Nelson, Jr. of 4661 Coronado Ave. served on an LCI ship in the final days of the Pacific war, the boat being one of those engaged in patrolling the waters of the Caroline Islands in order to blockade the Jap garrisons there remaining.

Among Navy men just honorably discharged from the service this week at the U. S. Naval Separation center, Camp Elliott, is Henry L. Faunce, 30, Aviation Ordnanceman Second Class U. S. N. R., of 5129 Muir Ave. Ocean Beach.

James F. Forst, chief boatswain mate, has been released from service with the Navy, at Terminal Island, San Pedro, Calif., according to news received from the Naval District office at Terminal Island. He is listed as residing at 4524 Narragansett Ave., Ocean Beach.

George E. Burke, whose wife lives at 4944 Santa Monica Ave., is one of five San Diegans who have been serving aboard the floating oil storage tanker, U.S.S. Chotauk, now stationed in Pearl Harbor. This tanker was in the thick of the battle zones several times while helping fighting warships to re-fuel without a long trip to port.

Corp. William A. Wilson of 5144 Cape May Ave. was one of six San Diegans who participated in the recent ceremony at the assembly area command near Troyes, France, marking the first anniversary of the liberation of the city of Arcis, France. As member of the Army's 452nd military police escort guard company, Wilson joined the citizens of Arcis in the festivities.

Homecoming of a Junior Soldier

Will it be a happy one? Certainly not as happy as if the family circle were complete.

For no one of us can put a father's warmth and love into that little family. But together we can give them something else—something important.

We can see that they get the expert care and attention they need. We can show them that they won't be forgotten while they're alone.

You can share in this work by giving now—generously. Part of whatever you give helps to support agencies that look after the families of our men in service.

They provide nurses and hospitals to care for the sick, legal advisers and family counselors to help with home problems. They offer a friendly hand in any crisis.

This is but one of the many great humanitarian services that your dollars will support. It needs your help—and deserves it.

Refreshments will be served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Veda Moss and Mrs. Mary Fold.

Dana P.T.A. Stages This Year's Drive For New Members

Dana Junior high school Parent-Teacher association is this week pushing a campaign for this year's members and hopes to exceed the total of 176 who were on the roll during the past school year, reports Mrs. Virginia Putney, the new president.

Further plans for the drive, also plans for the rummage sale that the group decided on, were discussed at the Thursday afternoon meeting held at the school building. The sale will be held Thursday and Friday, Oct. 25 and 26, both to be all day sales. Purpose is to carry on the work, study and other activities of the group this year. Those contributing articles for the sale are asked to phone Mrs. Pendleton, Bayview-4772 or Mrs. Rimell, Bayview-3420 who will pick up the contributions.

Nurse Shows Movies
Featuring the program of Thursday was a "movie" on rheumatic fever shown by Mrs. May Atherton, the school nurse. Mrs. Smith, dean of the seventh grade, told about her work and Principal Clarence Swenson told about the new Junior High building.

Tea was served by the members of the executive board of the association.

At the business session, Mrs. John Smith was appointed secretary for the new year and Mrs. Clara Cole first vice president. The other officers for this year, previously chosen, as follows:

BE SURE of FULL VITAMIN A POTENCY

Thompson's A & D TABLETS WITH VITAMIN E

Be sure your system is getting all the Vitamin A you are taking. Recent research shows that Vitamin A may "oxidize" in the intestinal tract and lose some of its potency before it can be absorbed. Vitamin E is believed to prevent this oxidation. So, in Thompson's Vitamin A and D Concentrate Tablets, Vitamin E is included to insure full protective potency of important Vitamin A.

Walter Clarke, a former mail carrier out of the Ocean Beach postoffice for several years, was married last week at Carson City, Nev., according to announcement received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke of 4761 Niagara Ave. Walter moved from Ocean Beach to Napa, Calif. and is employed nearby at the Mare Island Navy yard as a machinist.

Royal Neighbors Chapter Plans For Membership Drive

Ann Cordingly Camp, Ocean Beach Chapter of the Royal Neighbors of America, in their meeting held Friday night, discussed plans for this year's membership drive. The theme will be a "cross-country trip," stops being made at principal cities, each camp selecting a city as their individual theme. Ocean Beach Camp has chosen Kansas City as their theme and a party will be held for members and the public at the Woman's clubhouse on the night of November 16. Enid Camp is giving an Albuquerque party at Vasa clubhouse on October 16, to which all Ocean Beach Royal Neighbors are invited.

All articles for the hope chest that is to be given away at the "Kansas City" party should be turned in to Mrs. J. A. Stevens, 4603 Lotus St. by November 1, announce the officers.

Arrangements also were made for the Victory Chest campaign in the Azure Vista area.

All Royal Neighbors are invited to attend the vespers services for all Fraternal lodges to be held the evening of October 14 at the Asbury Methodist church.

PERSONALS..

Mr. and Mrs. George Bergman and son Billy of 2723 Gannon Dr. have returned home from San Francisco, where Mr. Bergman was recently released from the Navy. The family returned by way of Yosemite National park and Los Angeles.

Dr. Edward Wells of Brandon, Manitoba, Canada arrived here a few days ago for a visit with his aunt, Mrs. John Croston of San Diego, a former resident on Long Branch Ave. and with his friend, S. J. Tomes of 1645 Bacon St. He and Mr. Tomes left Thursday for a two days stay in Los Angeles. Mrs. Croston, who went to England after her husband's death, returned to San Diego last May.

Pete Bertram of 4894 Niagara Ave. reports he was released from the Army on September 19 and is now living with his aunt, Mrs. A. J. Bertram at the address mentioned. He retired with the rank of private first class, after three years in the Army. For the last 19 months he had been on duty overseas in Europe. Bertram worked for the Ocean Beach hardware for a year and a half before going into the service.

Kiwani-Annes To Hear Mrs. Raines At Oct. 16 Meeting

Ocean Beach Kiwani-Annes are to hear Mrs. B. F. Raines of U. S. O. Council of San Diego, guest speaker, at their October meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Lowmes, 4304 Del Mar Ave., Tuesday evening, October 16.

A six-thirty dinner is planned, with Mrs. Roy Milton and Mrs. Don Cochrane assisting the hostess.

Each member of the group is asked to bring to the meeting a book for donation to the children's hospital that the Kiwani-Annes is sponsoring.

ORGANIZATION OF NEW GROUP OF COLLEGE AND BUSINESS AGE PLANNED
Organization of a new group of young people of college and business age is planned by the Young People's Fellowship of Point Loma Methodist church, Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips of the publicity committee announced this week. She says:

"Are you interested in meeting college and business age young people? Keep this date open—Sunday evening, Oct. 28, 6 p. m. at the Point Loma Methodist church. Plan to become a member of our college and business age Methodist Youth Fellowship. Watch for further news about this group's meeting for devotions, fun and fellowship."

Assisting Mrs. Phillips on the committee are Miss Gertrude Johnson and Miss Jane Rimell.
